Highlights of Utah Boating Laws

WHAT IS CONSIDERED A BOAT?

73-18-2[14]

According to the Utah Boating Act, a boat is defined as every type of watercraft, other than a seaplane on the water, used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water. Float tubes, "kick" boats and inflatable rafts are considered boats.

WHICH VESSELS ARE REQUIRED TO BE REGISTERED AND NUMBERED?

73-18-6[1] & 73-18-7[1]

Any boat equipped with a motor, whether gas or battery powered, is required to be numbered and registered. The assigned bow number must be painted or permanently attached to each side of the forward half of the vessel, be vertical block characters at least three inches in height reading from left to right, and must contrast with the background color of the hull and be distinctly visible and legible from a distance. On inflatable vessels, the bow numbers may be mounted on a backing plate which is attached and displayed as described above.

Properly registered boats owned by residents of another state may be used in Utah for 14 calendar days without being registered in Utah. Boats owned by Utah residents, but registered out-of-state must also be registered in Utah if they are used on Utah waters. The registration card must be on board the boat and available for inspection whenever the boat is in operation.

WHAT IS THE MINIMUM AGE FOR A MOTORBOAT OPERATOR?

73-18-15.2

A person must be at least 16 years of age to operate a boat equipped with a motor (except for Personal Watercraft). A person under age 16 may operate a motorboat if a person 18 years of age or older is on board the boat.

WHAT SAFETY EQUIPMENT IS REQUIRED TO BE ON BOARD A BOAT?

Personal Flotation Devices (PFDs or more commonly known as life jackets):
73-18-81, R651-215-11, R651-215-12 & 73-18-81

You must carry at least one properly fitted U.S. Coast Guard approved type I, II, III or V (if approved on the label for the specific activity) PFD for each person on board the boat.

Every person 12 years of age or younger must wear a U.S. Coast Guard approved PFD whenever they are on a boat, except when they are inside the cabin area of a boat 19 feet or more in length.

U.S. Coast Guard approved inflatable PFDs may not be used on rivers or by persons 12 years of age or younger. Boats 16 feet and longer must also carry at least one U.S. Coast Guard approved type IV (throwable) PFD.

When on any river in Utah, each person on board a boat must wear a U.S. Coast Guard approved PFD. PFDs may be loosened or removed by persons 13 years of age or older when they are on designated flat water river sections. River sections currently designated as flat water include:

On the Green River:

- From Red Creek Camp below Red Creek Rapids to the Indian Crossing Boat Ramp;

- From 100 yards below Taylor Flats Bridge to the Utah/Colorado state line in Browns Park;
- Within Dinosaur National Monument, from the mouth of Whirlpool Canyon to the head of Split Mountain Gorge;
- From the mouth of Split Mountain to Jack Creek in Desolation Canyon; and,
- From the Green River Diversion Dam below Gray Canyon to the confluence with the Colorado River.

On the Colorado River:

- From the Utah/Colorado state line to the Westwater Ranger Station;
- From Big Hole Canyon in Westwater Canyon to Onion Creek;
- From Drinks Canyon, mile 70, to the confluence with the Green River; and,
- After the last active rapid in Cataract Canyon.

On the San Juan River:

- After the last active rapid, prior to Lake Powell.

Fire Extinguishers:

R651-217

All motorboats, unless exempt, must carry a U.S. Coast Guard approved Fire extinguisher. Outboard motorboats, of open-construction, less than 26 feet in length, without permanently installed fuel tanks or enclosed compartments are not required to carry fire extinguishers, however, it is recommended to carry one on board.

Navigation Lights:

73-18-8(2) & R651-216

All motorboats must use navigation lights while on Utah waters between sunset and sunrise. Manually propelled boats may use a white light which can be displayed to prevent a collision with another boat.

Whistle or horn:

R651-219-1

All boats 16 feet or longer in length must have a horn or whistle capable of producing a four to six second blast of sound. It is recommended that boats under 16 feet in length also carry a horn or whistle.

Bailing Device:

R651-219-2

All boats not of a self-bailing design must have a bail bucket or mechanical means for pumping the bilge.

Paddles:

R651-219-3

Boats less than 26 feet in length must have at least one paddle or oar on board.

Other Equipment Recommended to be on board:

Flashlight, first aid kit, compass, boarding ladder, tool kit, extra line, spare spark plugs, spare bilge plug, extra propeller, anchor, U.S. Coast Guard approved visual distress signal, etc.

NAVIGATION RULES:

R651-225-1

Manually powered vessels usually have the right of way over motorboats. Motorboats should stay clear of manually powered vessels and should not create a wake that may cause them trouble. Manually powered vessels must yield right of way when overtaking motorboats and when a motorboat is at anchor.

In overtaking and passing situations, the boat being passed has the right of way, and the passing boat is required to stay clear. When two boats are crossing paths, the boat on the left must slow down and allow the boat on the right to cross. When meeting another boat head-on, stay to the right. In narrow channels, boats underway must stay right of the middle of the channel. On rivers, boats traveling downstream have the right of way.

SPEED AND PROXIMITY:

R651-225-2

A wakeless speed is required within 150 feet of another vessel, a person in or floating on the water, a water skier (except one you are towing), a shore fisherman, a launching ramp, a dock, or a designated swimming area.

WAKELESS SPEED:

73-18-2(15)

An operating speed at which the vessel does not create or make a wake or white water trailing the vessel. This speed is not to exceed 5 mph.

Help stop illegal fish introductions

- Illegal fish stocking is costly to both you and the fisheries resources in Utah.
- Illegal fish stocking can upset the balance in fisheries, increase competition between species, reduce growth and reduce survival of desirable fish.
- Illegal stocking can mean the loss, maybe permanently, of valuable fisheries.
- Illegal stocking can introduce disease, like Whirling Disease, that can permanently affect fisheries.
- Illegal stocking has cost the Utah Division of Wildlife Resources and you, the license buyer, millions of dollars in rotenone treatments to remove illegally stocked fish that were unwanted and detrimental to an existing fishery.
- Moving any live fish or stocking them into the wild is illegal!

Report violations to:
1-800-662-DEER (3337)

What You Can Do to Reduce the Spread of Whirling Disease

Thoroughly clean mud from all of your equipment (e.g. waders, boots, boat, boat trailer, anchors, etc.) before you go to another water to fish. This applies to moving above barriers and dams on the same water as well as going between drainages.

Do not clean fish from one stream reach or lake in another body of water or different area of the stream. Whirling disease spores from infected fish could be released into new areas this way. Adult fish that were infected with whirling disease after they had reached 5 to 6 inches may not show any head or body deformities indicating they are infected with whirling disease. If you clean your fish in the field, do it where you catch the fish. (Remember you have to leave enough skin or the head for species identification, and if you are in or going to an area with length limits, make sure you leave the head and tail on so officers can determine that the fish was legal.)

Don't transport live fish; it is illegal. Live fish should never be moved from one water to another. Nor should they be moved upstream in the same drainage. A disease may be confined to the lower reach of a stream below a diversion or dam. By putting fish above the obstruction, you could move the disease into a new area.

If you observe fish stocking in public waters from a truck that is not marked as a Division of Wildlife Resources vehicle, contact your local conservation officer directly or call the poaching hotline at 1-800-662-3337 as soon as possible. If you observe several fish with possible whirling disease symptoms (e.g. deformed head or spine, black tail or swimming in a whirling manner) call a Division of Wildlife Resources office.

AQUATIC NUISANCE SPECIES IN UTAH

What are Aquatic Nuisance Species?

They are plants and animals that have become established in our natural waters that adversely affect the recreational, domestic or commercial values of the water.

Some species are especially tenacious and aggressive organisms that totally displace native organisms in an ecosystem. They also are especially hardy and often easily transferred from one body of water to another on boat trailers, muddy boots, vehicles and bait buckets.

Primary Threats In Utah

Utah already has several detrimental species that need to be contained and there are many potential invaders in other parts of the country that are of major concern:

Eurasian Watermilfoil: This plant has been found in Fish Lake and Otter Creek Reservoir. It grows in dense mats which interfere with boating and fishing activities and causes an imbalance in resident fish populations by harboring prey fish. It can regenerate from plant fragments that are transferred to new waters on boat trailers and in the live wells or bilges of boats.

Purple Loosestrife: This marshland plant with its colorful purple flowers develops into dense stands which displace other marsh plants that are important to sustaining a diverse marsh ecosystem. It is already widely distributed in Utah and further spread is a serious threat to our marshlands.

Spiny Water Flea: A small nearly microscopic crustacean from Australia. It was recently found in Willard Bay. Biologists fear that it will displace native zooplankton that are more edible to the small game fishes that rely heavily on them for food. This new arrival is very prolific and could change the food cycles in the reservoir dramatically—possibly to the detriment of the sport fisheries there.

Zebra Mussel: A miniature clam with stripes that has been introduced into the Great Lakes from Europe. It does not currently occur in Utah but is slowly moving West. The primary mode of movement is on boat hulls and in their bilges and motor cooling systems.

What Can You Do?

- Clean your boat and trailer of all plant fragments when leaving a body of water.
- Drain your bilges and live wells before leaving a water.
- Wash your boat with hot (120 degree F) water after boating on known zebra mussel infested waters.
- Never dump aquaria or water from other areas into a natural lake or stream.
- Never release fish or other aquatic organisms into lakes or streams. Even if devoid of recognizable life forms, there may be other undetectable microscopic organisms.
- Never clean fish and dump the refuse into waters from which they did not originate.

Go Fishing in the City...

Urban Fishing?...

..You bet!!

The Division of Wildlife Resources has launched a new program to develop more urban fisheries—places one can walk, bike or bus to, and catch a fish. The program will focus on making safe, attractive, and convenient places available for Utah residents to enjoy fishing, the outdoors, their family and friends.

Although Utah has its share of wide open spaces, the majority of citizens live and often play in the 100-mile reach between Ogden and Provo. This makes Utah the 6th most urbanized state, and as such, it is beginning to experience problems similar to those of other large metropolitan areas. Increased urbanization often results in residents losing touch with their environment—while human impacts on water and aquatic resources continue to increase.

Urban youth, families, seniors and others often cannot afford or do not have the time to travel to the mountains to fish. By developing "home waters," areas at which local residents have the opportunity to fish nearby, the Division of Wildlife Resources hopes to promote a quality recreational past-time for Utah residents and re-connect urban youth and others to the environment.

Increased connection to our waters results in awareness of our impact on water quality, respect for wild creatures and their homes, and a desire to protect the resource. Responsible anglers enjoy their time on the water, and their strong sense of appreciation for this resource is evident in their interactions with it.

The Urban Fishing Program is aimed at both seasoned anglers and newcomers to the sport. Fishers who would like to learn more about places to go around the Wasatch Front can obtain a brochure that highlights currently productive urban fisheries. This document contains information about fishes and angling near major community centers in Utah, along with information on licenses and equipment. The brochure is available at regional DWR offices.

The DWR also has an educational component in place for urban children who have never fished before or haven't been able to fish as much as they'd like. Youth fishing clubs are being formed in various communities to introduce young people to the joys of responsible sportfishing. Each club of 20-40 children will meet on local creeks and ponds once a week to learn more about angling and aquatic resources. The clubs will be led by groups of adult volunteers (or "fishing coaches"), who will introduce urban youth to the joys of responsible sportfishing.

Unlike other sport activities, everyone can participate at any skill level, either solo or in groups, and set their own pace. Fishing encourages responsible behavior towards aquatic resources, but most of all fishing is FUN!

The Urban Fishing Program works through the formation of partnerships with local governments and communities to develop urban fishing sites, and to initiate and support regular, long-term, mentored fishing outings to the public. Citizen involvement is key to the program. Public support for urban fisheries is indispensable, particularly in the early or developmental stages of building or revitalizing local waters. Communities wishing to develop or enhance local angling opportunities can voice this desire to their city council, in addition to contacting the urban fishing office.

The educational component of the Urban Fishing Program relies solely on the participation of adult volunteers from the community. The "Urban Fishing Leaders" act as aquatic resource educators on their home waters, sharing their knowledge of angling and aquatic ecology with children and other urban residents during regular club outings.

Participation as an Urban Fishing Leader requires no prior experience—just the donation of time. The program has a seminar designed to train adult volunteers in sportfish and aquatic resource education.

The DWR's new Urban Fishing Program will expand opportunities for Utah residents to interact with wildlife close to home. The program will increase the quantity and quality of urban fisheries, while providing aquatic resource education and angling instruction.

If you'd like to know more about the Urban Fishing Program, or donate your time as an Urban Fishing Leader, please call (801) 538-4774.

Lakes of the High Uintas

The Uinta Mountains of Northeastern Utah are the highest mountain range in Utah and are the only major range in the contiguous U.S. that lie in a east/west direction. Four of Utah's major river drainages originate in the snow-capped peaks of the High Uintas.

Of the 1,036 lakes surveyed, only 427 are currently being stocked with fish. About 150 lakes have sufficient natural reproduction so as to not require stocking, but, 460 lakes are fishless. Only the descriptions of the lakes which support fish are included in these booklets.

Fish of Utah...

Utah Native Sport Fish

Mountain whitefish: Light brown on the back and fins and silvery to white on the belly and sides. Snout and lower jaw are short and blunt, with a flap on each nostril.

Angling record:

1997, Wt.-4lb.-12oz; L-21-½ in. G-14 in; Roy L. Montoya, Deer Creek Reservoir.

Catch-and-Release record:

11/28/97; 23 in; Justin C. Bond; Provo River.

Bonneville whitefish and Bear Lake whitefish: These two fish are indistinguishable below 10 inches in length. The Bonneville whitefish have gray-blue spots along their sides.

These whitefish are elongate, relatively cylindrical fish. They are silvery-white along their sides grading into a charcoal gray to black on their backs.

They have small delicate mouths that make them difficult to catch. Bonneville whitefish may reach four pounds and grow to 20 inches. Both species occur only in Bear Lake—nowhere else in the world.

Angling record:

1982, Wt.- 4lb.-4 oz; L- 21 in. G-13-¾ in; Deon Sparks; Bear Lake.

Catch-and-Release record: 10/03/99; 18 in; Jeanne Pettengill; Bear Lake.

Bonneville cisco:

A diminutive fish found only in Bear Lake. The Bonneville cisco is a long, slender, pearly-silver fish that rarely grows beyond seven inches. It has a dusky blue back and a brassy band along its flanks at spawning time. The snout is sharply pointed. It is noted for its mid-winter spawning concentrations along a rocky beach on the east side of Bear Lake in mid-January where it is dip netted in large numbers. It is a prolific fish that is an important forage for the predatory species in Bear Lake.

Cutthroat Trout:

Three sub-species evolved from the only trout native to Utah. Cutthroats are best distinguished by their crimson slash along the lower jaw. They lack the iridescent pink stripe of the rainbow trout.

The Bonneville cutthroat trout inhabited the Bonneville Basin and has sparsely scattered, very distinctly round spots over the upper body.

Bonneville cutthroat

They are clothed in subdued colors of silver-gray to charcoal upper body with subtle hues of pink on flanks during spawning. They, particularly the Bear Lake strain, often lack the bright crimson jaw slash that, at times, may be yellow.

The Colorado River cutthroat trout evolved in the Colorado/Green River drainages and is noted for its brilliant coloration. The males, in spawning condition, have bright crimson stripes along the sides and the stomach. Spotting is usually concentrated posteriorly.

Colorado River cutthroat

Yellowstone cutthroat (not pictured) are native to Snake River drainages such as the Raft River Mountain area of northwest Utah and had been the predominant subspecies used in management programs throughout the state. It is lightly spotted with distinctly round spots concentrated toward the tail area.

Today, the two other native strains are becoming more extensively used in the sport-fisheries programs and are being re-introduced to many of their former habitats.

Catch-and-Release record: 05/12/99; 23 in; Matt Selders; Currant Creek Reservoir.

...Species Identification

Trout, Char & Salmon

Rainbow Trout:

Colors vary greatly—with patterns depending on habitat, size, and maturity. Stream residents and migrant spawners are darker and have more intense colors than lake residents or nonspawners. Lake residents tend to be silvery. A mature rainbow is dark green to bluish on the back with silvery sides. The reddish horizontal band typifies the species. The belly may be white to silvery. Irregular black spots are usually present on the head, back and sides. Rainbow trout are heavily stocked in almost every coldwater drainage in Utah.

Angling record:

1979; Wt.—26lb-2oz; Del Canty; Flaming Gorge Reservoir.

Catch-and-Release record:

11/11/99; 27 in; Matt Hanousek; Strawberry Reservoir.

Lake Trout:

This species of char has a background color of gray-brown, overlaid with light spots that vary in intensity with age and environment. The background color covers the back, sides, and fins and serves to highlight the lighter gray spots. Lake trout in large lakes are sometimes so silvery that the spots are difficult to see. Spotting is usually more intense on small fish. The caudal is deeply forked. The mouth is large and terminal with strong teeth on both jaws. They are present in Fish Lake, Bear Lake, and Flaming Gorge Reservoir.

Angling record:

1988; Wt.—51lb-8oz; L—45- $\frac{1}{2}$ in; G—31- $\frac{3}{4}$ in; Curt Bilbey; Flaming Gorge Reservoir.

Catch-and-Release record: 07/09/98; 46- $\frac{1}{2}$ in; Ray Johnson; Flaming Gorge.

Brook Trout:

Exhibiting a wide range of colors, brook trout (another char) may be olive to blue-gray on the back to white on the belly. Red spots, usually with bluish halos around them, are present on the sides. Characteristic light wavy marks on the back are a distinguishing feature. Obvious white and then black stripe along the fore edge of each of the lower fins aids in separating brook trout from most other trouts. Caudal fin is square or lightly forked.

Brook trout

Angling record:

1971; Wt.—7lb-8oz; Milton Taft; Boulder Mountain.

Catch-and-Release record:

12/06/97; L—23 in; Travis L. Clark; Boulder Mountain.

Arctic grayling:

Silvery to light purple colors on the sides and bluish-white on the belly are the distinctive colors of grayling. They are relatively slender and are most easily distinguished by their long, high, brilliantly colored, bright purple, sail-like dorsal fin.

Arctic grayling

Angling record:

1998; Wt.—1lb-12oz; L—17- $\frac{1}{4}$ in; G—8- $\frac{3}{4}$ in; Terry J. Fieldsted; Big Dog Lake—South Slope Uintas.

Catch-and-Release record:

07/17/99; 19 in; Russell Lee, Jr.; Uinta Mountains.

Kokanee Salmon:

Kokanee are bright silvery fish with no definitive spotting pattern. Kokanee have a dark blue back with silvery sides. As the spawning season approaches, kokanee turn from silver to orange to deep red and the male develops a characteristic hook-jaw common to the Pacific salmon. A deeply forked tail also distinguishes them from rainbow, cutthroat and brown trout. They are present in Flaming Gorge, Porcupine and Strawberry reservoirs.

Catch-and-Release record:

Brown Trout:

It is a very hardy trout that competes well with other fishes and endures marginal water qualities better than most trouts. It generally has golden brown hues with yellow under parts. The males during spawning are often brilliantly splashed with crimson spots circled with blue halos. Its upper body is usually profusely dappled with large, irregular, dark-chocolate spots. It is quite carnivorous and sports a stronger, sharper set of teeth than most trouts. Brown trout often grow to considerable size.

Brown trout

Cool and Warm Water FishWalleye:

Prominent "canine" teeth distinguish this big perch from its smaller cousin, the yellow perch. Color is brassy olive buff, sometimes shading to yellowish sides and white beneath.

Walleye

Large, dark blotch at rear base of the first dorsal fin and the lower lobe of tail is white-tipped. The tail is moderately forked.

Colorado River Endangered Species

Colorado Pikeminnow (Ptychocheilus lucius) (formerly known as the Colorado squawfish):

This minnow has an olive-green and gold back with a silvery belly. Young pikeminnows may resemble the roundtail chub, but the mouth of the pikeminnow is longer, with thick folded lips that extend past the center of its eye (see the diagram). Anglers are likely to encounter Colorado pikeminnows in lengths anywhere from 10 to 30 inches.

Colorado pikeminnow

Humpback chub (Gila cypha):

This minnow has a brown or olive-colored back and silver sides with a prominent, smoothly rounded hump behind its head, small eyes and a long snout that overhangs its jaw.

They usually can be found 6 to 16 inches long, but can grow to be 20 inches in length.

Humpback chub

Bonytail (Gila elegans):

This minnow has a gray or olive-colored back, silver sides and a white belly. It has large fins and a streamlined body that becomes thin in front of the tail. Extremely rare, most living bony-tails are 12 to 18 inches in length, although they can grow to lengths of 24 inches or more.

Bonytail

Razorbuck sucker (Xyrauchen texanus):

This sucker is brownish-green with a yellow to white-colored belly and has an abrupt, bony, keel-edged hump on its back just behind the head. One of the largest suckers in North America, it can grow to weights of 13 pounds and lengths exceeding 3 feet.

Anglers most likely could encounter the fish in lengths 15 to 24 inches.

Razorbuck sucker

Release protocol: Anglers who hook any of these fish must release them alive. Field personnel who encounter anglers with live endangered fish in their possession should release the fish. The only times endangered fish should be kept for evidence is if the fish is already dead or clearly will not survive.

Penalties for keeping endangered fish:

Federal: Up to $100,000 in fines and up to one year in jail.

Utah: Up to $10,000 in fines and up to five years in jail, and an additional restitution of $1,000 per fish.

Colorado: Up to $100,000 in fines and up to one year in jail.

Important phone numbers

To report finding any endangered fish, dead or alive, call (970) 243-2778 or (970) 245-9319. To report finding a tagged fish in Colorado, call (970) 255-6100; in Utah, call (801) 538-4762.

Anglers may confuse these two fish. Here are guidelines for distinguishing them: The mouth of the pikeminnow extends past the center of its eye. The mouth of the roundtail ends in front of its eye. Also, the existence of a black triangular patch at the base of young Colorado pikeminnows' tails can be used to distinguish this fish from roundtails.

UPPER COLORADO RIVER
ENDANGERED FISH
RECOVERY PROGRAM

CATCH & RELEASE FISHING

INFORMATION & TECHNIQUES

- Bait caught fish typically suffer a much higher hooking mortality than fish caught on flies and lures. At least 1 out of 3 fish caught with bait will die after release. Over 60% of deep hooked fish die. Cutting the line on deep hooked fish and not trying to remove the hook increases survival significantly. The major cause of hooking mortality is hooking injury itself. Most fish bleeding from being hooked, will not survive.

- Generally 9 out of 10 fish caught on flies or lures will survive after release. Studies have shown that there is only a 1-2% difference in the survival of fish caught on flies compared to those caught on lures.
- When fishing deep water (deeper than 30 feet) most fish caught cannot be released with any assurance that they will survive. Bringing fish up quickly causes blood chemistry changes as well as an expansion of the air bladder to many times its normal size, often causing it to protrude out of the fish's mouth. Keeping the fish in the water and quickly releasing it so it can get back down to deeper water helps some. Puncturing the swim bladder with a needle ("fizzing") does not improve survival. Some fish like lake trout can burp off the gases from the swim bladder when pulled up slowly. Most fish do not have this capability.

- Fish that are already stressed by warm water temperatures or low dissolved oxygen conditions cannot handle the added stress of being caught and most likely will not survive after being released. Some of Utah's low to mid-elevation reservoirs get warm during the summer. Some trout waters will have surface temperatures of 70-75 degrees. If you are catching fish in August when water temperatures are already marginal, don't plan on catching and releasing a lot of fish. Most released fish are probably not going to live to be caught another day.

HOW CAN YOU INCREASE SURVIVAL OF FISH YOU PLAN TO RELEASE?

- If you plan to release fish, fish with flies or lures. Bending down the barbs on your hooks will make the release even easier. Replacing treble hooks with single hooks also makes the release easier.
- If a fish is hooked deep, cut your line. The hook will dissolve or come loose.
- Land the fish as quickly as possible. This is less tiring for the fish. If you're fishing in deep water it can be better to slowly bring the fish up to allow time to adjust to the pressure change.
- If possible, keep the fish in the water and use a pair of forceps or needle-nosed pliers to remove the hook.
- Handle the fish as little as possible, and wet your hands or towel before handling the fish. This helps maintain the protective slime coating on the fish.

HUNTING, FISHING, TRAPPING, OR TARGET SHOOTING ACTIVITIES ARE NO LONGER EXEMPT FROM APPLICATION OF THIS LAW.

Get Involved With Utah Wildlife

To provide the public a way to give input to the Division of Wildlife Resources and the Utah Wildlife Board about wildlife management in Utah, Regional Advisory Councils (RACs) were established throughout the state in the mid 1990s.

There are five RACs in Utah. Each consists of 12 to 15 members selected from the specific community or region. Each RAC has the following:

- two members who represent agriculture
- two members who represent sportsmen
- two members who represent non-consumptive use
- one member who is a locally appointed public official
- one member from the U.S. Forest Service
- one member from the Bureau of Land Management
- two members of the public-at-large, who represent the general interests of the region
- where applicable, one member who represents Native American interests

Members are appointed by the executive director of the Department of Natural Resources, in consultation with the director of the Division of Wildlife Resources, and may not serve more than two terms. Each Division regional supervisor serves as the executive secretary for the RAC in his region, just as the Division director serves as the executive secretary for the Wildlife Board.

RACs hold meetings to hear public input about Division of Wildlife Resources proposals, including recommendations, biological data and information about the effects of wildlife. The RACs also gather information from their constituents, the public and government agencies, and make recommendations to the Wildlife Board in an advisory capacity.

Each RAC is charged with hearing different viewpoints and controversial issues. They must incorporate all perspectives and come to the decision that they feel is best for all of Utah's wildlife and its citizens.

Each RAC appoints a chairperson who attends Wildlife Board meetings and presents RAC recommendations to the Wildlife Board during an open public meeting.

The public is invited to give its input and comments to the RACs. After deliberating on the issues, RAC members vote. Motions that pass are taken to the Wildlife Board.

The Wildlife Board has the final decision making authority. Board members weigh heavily on RAC recommendations when making their final decisions.

From year to year, many of the same topics are addressed during the same month. The timeline is determined by when a specific proclamation needs to be available to the public. If you want to address a specific topic (for example, fishing regulations are discussed during the August RAC meetings) you need to attend the appropriate RAC meeting.

These dates are not set in stone but are adhered to as much as possible. If you plan to attend a RAC meeting, please contact the specific Division regional office to confirm the dates.

- RAC meetings in the Northeastern Region are held at the Vernal City Offices, 447 E. Main St. in Vernal.
- The Southeastern Region, meetings are held at the John Wesley Powell Museum, 885 E. Main St. in Green River.
- The Northern, Central and Southern regions meetings are held in a different location each month.

For information on where the meetings will be held, call the Division regional office in those regions or check the Division's Internet address:

www.nr.state.ut.us/dwr/dwr.htm (Public Meetings)

Public input is the cornerstone of successful decision-making for the Division through the RAC and Wildlife Board process. If you feel strongly about an issue and wish to share your viewpoint, attend your RAC meeting and state your concerns.

Brent R. Todd
Wildlife Artistry

Brent Todd's original artwork and limited edition prints have generated a very large following throughout the country. He is a self-taught artist who believes composition is vital to any work, and spends hours studying photographs and sketching ideas before he ever touches the canvas with a brush. He stresses detail and wants the viewer to experience a feeling of "being there" in all of his creations.

His work has been featured on the cover of Cabela's, Safari Club International and Bugle magazines, just to mention a few. He has been named RMEF artist of the quarter, FNAWS artist of the year, People's Choice artist of the year, and has recently done stamps for Canada.

A dedicated wildlife advocate, Brent donates his time and talent to many wildlife organizations. He feels it is his responsibility to "give something back to help ensure that there will be wildlife for future generations to enjoy."

The boat is leaving a wake behind it. In the bottom left corner, there is a logo for "SUN TRACKER" with the text "world's #1 selling pontoon boat" below it.
